WWW.ACIC-CACI.ORG/FIRSTVOICES

The Atlantic Council for International Cooperation presents:

FIRST VOICES

stories from aboriginal youth
in the north and the south

Stories are told
better
by people
who live them

FIRST VOICES is a 22 minute video that tells inspiring stories by six Aboriginal youth from Atlantic Canada and Latin America who show pride in their culture, heritage, and environment. After filming they came together to collaboratively edit. In the process, they realized that their stories shared common themes - of the strength of women in communities and the importance of preserving their culture and history.
